Apple Icon in Sydney to host private fundraising dinner

20 February 2008. One of the greatest innovators of our time, Steve Wozniak, co-founder of Apple Computers and the creative mind behind the world's first personal computer, will host a private dinner to raise funds for Cure Our Kids in Sydney on Sunday 2 March 2008.

To be facilitated in an 'off the record' capacity by BRW's Editor-in-Chief Sean Aylmer, the dinner will be an intimate affair with only 18 places on offer.

This is a unique opportunity to break-bread with one of the greatest technological and entrepreneurial minds of our time. Wozniak's brilliance changed the face of the computing industry and set the course for personal computers as we know them today.

Wozniak is also a tireless philanthropist focusing his energies and considerable resources on educational facilities and fostering creativity and innovation.

The dinner is sure to be enlightening and memorable, a once in a lifetime experience with the added benefit of raising much needed funds for the Oncology Unit at The Children's Hospital at Westmead.

Wozniak is currently developing new digital technologies within the telecommunications sector and is accompanying his fiancé, Emmy Award winning comedienne Kathy Griffin who is performing in Sydney.

Cure Our Kids is an independent charity, which provides assistance to the Oncology Unit at The Children's Hospital at Westmead and is currently embarking on a landmark project to provide a new purpose-built facility that will ensure the children of NSW and beyond continue to have access to cutting edge research and treatment.

The dinner will be held in the private dining room at Pier Restaurant, Rose Bay on Sunday 2 March. Tickets $6,000 per person ($5,500 of which is a tax deductible donation). Booking enquiries 9938 3499.
